FOCUS ON... NEW LIFE OF EASTER

It is no accident that the liturgical season of Easter coincides with the Springtime when the bitter cold and darkness of Winter is a fading memory, and the Sun is rising higher and higher each new day. It is a time of the year when all kinds of new life is entering the world, and new growth is abundantly evident, not least to those who tend a flourishing garden or who belong to the world of farming and agriculture! The new life of Spring reminds us that, although suffering and death are intrinsic to the fabric of reality, nature does not allow entropy to have the last word. The testimony of Scripture goes further and affirms very directly that it is out of suffering and death that God brings new life into being. What theologians have called the "Book of Nature", then, reveals in metaphor what in the Book of Scripture is the supreme revelation of divine love couched in categories of profound mystery. "Dark was the night, cold was the earth" is how the African American musician, Blind Willie Johnson, wrote of the Crucifixion of Christ. "Now the green blade riseth" is how the popular Easter hymn by John Macleod Campbell Crum, the former Rector of Farnham and Canon of Canterbury Cathedral, celebrates the wonder of Christ's Resurrection. At the very epicentre of the Easter proclamation of the Church, it is our faith that the deep sadness and sorrow of the saving death of our Lord on the first Good Friday gave way to the great joy of his rising in glory on the first Easter Day. In our own lives, we recall times when God has brought us gently and safely through a valley of shadows – be it a serious illness, a devastating bereavement and grief that overwhelmed us, or a troubled relationship. Whatever it was that so wounded us, through the new life of Easter, we can say now that God has healed us in ways we can trust. And so we are called to be faithful witnesses to the Good News of Easter; and so to reach out to those around us who need hear of the new life of Easter at work in in their lives too. Alleluia!

Canon Tony Bundock
