FOCUS ON... ST. MARK THE EVANGELIST

The Gospel of Saint Mark is believed to have been the earliest of the four Gospels to have been written and is customarily dated to the period between AD65 and AD75. Saint Mark is said to have been born in Cyrene in Libya; and he is identified with John Mark, who is mentioned in several places in the New Testament. This led to him being identified as the man who carried water to the house where the Last Supper took place (Mark 14:13), and as the young man who ran away naked when Jesus was arrested (Mark 14:51–52). According to Church tradition, Saint Mark was one of the 70 disciples whom Jesus sent out in ministry and mission. He is said to have travelled to Alexandria in Egypt which became one of the great epicentres of Christian scholarship and theology in the Early Church. The Coptic Orthodox Church, the Greek Orthodox Church of Alexandria, and the Coptic Catholic Church all trace their origins to this original Alexandrian Christian community which Saint Mark is said to have founded. He became the first Bishop of Alexandria and he is thus honoured as the founder of Christianity in Africa. He is believed to have died in Alexandria but, in the 9th century, his relics were taken to Venice and are held at St. Mark's Basilica. In Christian art, Saint Mark is most often portrayed writing or holding his Gospel. In Christian tradition, he is symbolized by a lion in the desert. He has been depicted as a Bishop on a throne decorated with lions; and as a man with a book or scroll, accompanied by a winged lion. It is suggested that the symbol of the lion may be an association with the resurrection of Jesus as lions were believed to sleep with their eyes open. The abiding message of Saint Mark's Gospel affirms Christ's victory over evil and, through the saving work of Jesus on the cross, the presence of the Kingdom of God even in testing times. Saint Mark tells his readers that Jesus calls us to take up our cross and follow him.
